

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MercerMorgan Becomes M2, Reimagining Executive Search for Healthcare's Next Era

M2 pairs its executive search and board advisory practice with new AI-enabled Leadership Intelligence capabilities

NASHVILLE, TN — August 18, 2026 — MercerMorgan today announced its evolution to M2, expanding the healthcare executive search and board advisory firm's approach to driving leadership outcomes. For more than 25 years, MercerMorgan has advised boards, CEOs, and investors on the leadership decisions that shape enterprise value. M2 builds on that foundation for an industry being rapidly reshaped by AI, new business models, and accelerating market change.

M2 believes the traditional definition of executive search is no longer enough. Finding the right leader remains critical — but increasingly, leadership outcomes are defined by what happens next: how quickly a new executive understands the market, identifies what matters, and begins creating value. M2 is built around that reality, combining the judgment and relationships that have defined MercerMorgan with new intelligence and technology designed for the next generation of healthcare leadership.

"Companies don't invest in executive search — they invest in leadership outcomes," said Sal DiGiuseppi, Chief Executive Officer of M2. "Our responsibility doesn't end when a leader is hired. That's where the next phase begins. By combining deep healthcare expertise with market intelligence and new AI-enabled capabilities, we can help leaders make better decisions, accelerate their impact, and create value from day one."

ABOUT M2

M2 is a healthcare-focused executive search, board advisory, and leadership intelligence firm built for the next era of leadership. For more than 25 years, the firm has advised boards, CEOs, and investors on the leadership decisions that shape enterprise value. Today, M2 combines deep sector expertise, proprietary market intelligence, and AI-enabled capabilities to identify exceptional leaders — and accelerate their impact from day one.

Healthcare's Leadership. Reimagined. Learn more at M2MercerMorgan.com

MEDIA CONTACT

Contact@M2MercerMorgan.com